

Poorakkali – A Ritualistic, Martial and Melodious Musical art form of North Malabar

¹Namitha Balagopal

¹PhD research scholar

¹Vels University

Abstract:

“Narayana Narayana Vasudeva kaithozhunnen” when you hear this beautiful song undoubtedly you can say it is Poorakkali, the ritual of integrating dance and music in North Malabar which become more and more popular in present day. The reason that I choose to write about this ritual art, because today this is practiced and performed by the artist without any cast of religious barriers. Once this art form was only performed within the temples of Kasargod and Kannur Districts. It is a great pleasure to see that Poorakkali has come out from the shrine and to have many entertainers all over the world.

Introduction:

Poorakkali is one of the most important, beautiful and sacred ritual art forms of North Malabar. It has a closer resemblance with the martial art form Kalaripayatt. Poorakkali is played in the temple by the lower community. It can be seen that a group of captives of the upper class would automatically evolved into folkloric forms, and the art which later became rhythmic rhythms and rhythms, in this the voices and celebrities who volunteered to ease their burdens. The historical fact is that almost all folk arts are concentrated on agriculture. Poorakkali can only be seen as part of a collective effort made by working-class lifters. This art, which was made in a materialistic way, has gradually become devotional. It is a group of seven communities who are taking care of this art which has become a ritual.

They are,

1. Theyya
2. Yadava
3. Mukaya
4. Shaliya
5. Karmala
6. Moovari
7. Aashari

Poorakkali is celebrated in Pooram days of the Meenam month (from Malayalam calendar) in front of the temple of Goddess. From the Malayalam star Karthika to Pooram, the nine days young girls are worshiped with purity and the men perform Poorakkali as an offering to the Goddesses.

The notion of the Nature and Male is the basis for such practices. It is mentioned in the Vasantha puja, which is sung in Poorakkali days that only women played Poorakkali during the early days. According to this story, the role played by women gradually became dominated by men.

Origin and development of Poorakkali:

The worship of Mother Goddesses started in the early days when women were shearing a respected position in the tribe and family. It says that when there was high prosperity through agriculture women started dancing and singing to show their happiness. This is where Poorakkali was born. In the Devi temples and at home, the practice of offering flowers to lord Kamadeva by young girls and producing a special sound called Poovili are still prevalent.

Gradually, with a male-centered culture, women were replaced by men and the added vigorous steps and rhythms.

Origin according to Mythology:

When Lord Shiva burned Lord Kamadeva with a fiery-eyed fire and turned him to ashes, the feeling of lust in the world is gone. His wife Rathi Devi and other gods came to Lord Shiva and requested him to reincarnate Kama. Lord Shiva's advice was to worship Vishnu, who is the Aditya of the Chaitra month. Maha Vishnu comforted Rathi and said that make Lord Kama's replica with flower which is called Poobanan and perform fasting and put Kurava (a sound makes from mouth during the special occasions) from the day of Karthik till Pooram star. After hearing this, young girls from Earth-Heaven and Paathala Looka; they started singing and dancing by clapping their hands around Poobanan.

The origin according to the historical observers:

The notion that Poorakkali has evolved from Kuravai Koothu. Kuttammath A Sreedharan Master in his article, 'Pooravum Poorakkaliyum – chila padabhedangal' mentioned that this art form is not derived from 'Kuravai Kooth' but 'Aaychi Koothu' which is performed by Gopikas. One of the Chilappathikaram edition published by Kerala Sangeethanataka academy, on its 17th hymn has titled as 'Gopika Nritham or Aaychimar Kuravai'. This supports Kuttammath's argument. According to C.M.S. Chandera this is created by shepherds during 7th century. In Dr. M.V. Vishnunambudiri's book he has explained the relation of Poorakkali with Sangham time and with Kuravai Kooth.

Chilappathikaram emphasize,

1. Kuravai is a dance form in which ladies dance and sing in a circle.
2. The people who perform Kuravai are called Kuravar.
3. During Sangam period almost all communities performed Kuravaiaattam.
4. Kuravayattam is the sign of the ancient tribe.

In the book Chndhrothsavam, which is written during 14th century is also mentioned about the dance tradition which is performed during Pooram festival times.

Performance:

After the Kaliyattam and Perumkaliyattam, before removing the pandal in front of the Bhagavathi temple there was a strict rule that Marathukali continued by Poorakkali should be performed. Muchilottu Kavus and Yadava temples are still following this tradition. The famous shrines like Udinur Kovilakam, Rayaramangalam temple, Madiyan Kovilakam and Monacha temple where only Brahmans perform pujas, here Poorakkali is performed in a silent method which is called as Pooramala.

The play begins with lighting the main lamp brought by the main priest from the temple at the temple's courtyard pandal. The Poorakkali arts practices Poorakkali for a month within the pandal outside the temple wall. After this strict practice they perform Poorakkali in front of the temple with the ritual practice called the Kazhakam Kayaral.

They praise the Goddesses by singing and dancing with 18 Niram or colors or chapters, 18 colored flowers, 18 dancers, 18 Ragas, 18 Praasa, 18 Natyakrama and 18 Aksharas.

| Niram | Dancer | Flower | Praasam | Ragam | Natyakrama | Aksharam |
|-------|--------------|---------------|----------|------------------|----------------|----------|
| 1 | Rambha | Chenthamara | Anushtip | Poovaali | Neerangam | 8 |
| 2 | Urvashi | Venthamara | Agni | Poornaahari | Eeradi | 10 |
| 3 | Meenaka | Ponthamara | Agni | Kshethaahari | Eeradi | 10 |
| 4 | Arundhathi | Karithamara | Thidhi | Vanaahari | Eeradi | 15 |
| 5 | Thiloothama | Vadathamara | Purana | Kanakahari | Eeradi | 18 |
| 6 | Chitraleekha | Neerthamara | Purana | Madhamaahari | Naladivattam | 18 |
| 7 | Rathnavi | Cheruthamara | Purana | Aahari | Erukalanatanam | 18 |
| 8 | Ahalya | Malathi | Agni | Shankaravarnini | Neerangam | 10 |
| 9 | Draupathi | Mallika | Agni | Shisadhavi | Aadineerangam | 10 |
| 10 | Seethadevi | Kundha | Agni | Bhoothanadi | Eeradi | 10 |
| 11 | Thara | Mulla | Manu | Bhoothakarshini | Eeradi | 14 |
| 12 | Mandodhari | Mandhara | Indu | Bhoothaleela | Naladivattam | 16 |
| 13 | Bhoodevi | Chemandhi | Surya | Manjari | Naaladivattam | 12 |
| 14 | Gangadevi | Ashoka | Indu | Malahari | Naaladivattam | 16 |
| 15 | Vaagdevi | Chengazhineer | Purana | Maargani | Naaladivattam | 18 |
| 16 | Rathidevi | Chootha | Purana | Shalini | Naaladivattam | 18 |
| 17 | Sridevi | Chempaka | Surya | Shaareeraviragam | Naaladivattam | 12 |
| 18 | Girisutha | Chekki | Surya | Malavi | Naaladivattam | 12 |

After this 18 Nirams, they perform Aandu and Pallu which is one of the most important performances of this event. It narrates the events of Shiva – Parvathi during their incarnation as farmers.

Costumes:

The costumes for Poorakkali are very simple. Above Chellanam (Veeralippattu) and Chura (Kachha) they wear a short stole known as Urumal on their waist and apply sandal paste on their forehead, chest and hand.

Conclusion:

It is a marvelous art form that combines intellect, acrobat and music. There are many different steps, Thalass, and songs that tell the story of each mythology. The Poorakkali is distinguished from the other art forms by virtue of the long hours of performance which includes vigorous exercises and movements by singing in a circle facing a big oil lamp. Poorakkali enriched northern part of North Malabar which has a rich folk literature. In the recent times, progressives have been waiting for the opportunity to learn and perform Poorakkali from beyond caste and gender thinking. Initially the performance was limited to the temple premises, however gradually the Poorakkali moved to public places.

References:

- C.M.S.Chandera, Poorakkali, P.K.Brothers, Kozhikode.
- Mayicha Govindan, Pooravum Poorakkaliyum, Kamala Printers, Kozhikode.
- Poorakkaliyum Marathukaliyum, Kerala Poorakkali Kala Academy.
- Kuttamathu A Sreedharan Nair, Pooravum Poorakkaliyum, article.
- Gopalakrishnan, Kerala chartram, Kerala History Association.
- Sri Kanippayyur Shankaran Namboodirippad, Ende Smaranakal.

Glossary:

- Narayana Narayana Vasudeva Kaithozhunne = I bow to Lord Maha Vishnu
- Kaliyattam = Yearly Theyyam festival
- Perumkaliyattam = The Theyyam festival performed once in 12 years of more
- Paathalalokam = Under world

- Marathukali = Discourse between two Sanskrit scholars
- Praasam = Alliteration
- Chellanam = The red color cloth which ties around the waist
- Chura = Dhoti
- Meenam = 8th Malayalam month (March 16th – April 15th)
- Karthika = The third birth star
- Pooram = The 11th birth star
- Kamadevan = Lord of love
- Aadithyan = Sun
- Natya Krama = Dancing methods
- Akshara = Letter

