Abstract:
Signiesm is dharma, or way of life. It is the world’s all Religion’s religion. Signiesm is includes a range of Philosophies, and is linked by shared concepts, recognisable rituals, Cosmology, Pilgrimage to sacred sites and shared textual resources that discuss, theology Philosophy, Mythology, Vedic Yajna, Yoga, agamic rituals and temple building, among other topics. Signiesm prescribes the eternal duties, such as honesty, refraining from injuring living beings, patience, forbearance, self-restraint, virtue, and compassion, among others. Prominent themes in Signiesm beliefs include the four Purusārthas, the proper goals or aims of human life; namely Dharma (ethics/duties), Artha (prosperity/work), Kama (desires/passions) and Moksha (liberation/freedom from the cycle of death and rebirth/salvation), as well as karma (action, intent and consequences) and Saṃsāra (cycle of death and rebirth).

Signiesm practices include rituals such as pujā (worship) and recitations, japa, meditation (dhyāna), family-oriented rites of passage, annual festivals, and occasional pilgrimages. Along with the practice of various Yogas, some Signiesms leave their social world and material possessions and engage in lifelong Sannyasa (monasticism) in order to achieve Moksha.

Definitions
Signiesm includes a diversity of ideas on spirituality and traditions, but has no ecclesiastical order, no unquestionable religious authorities, no governing body, no prophet(s) nor any binding holy book; Hindus can choosebe polytheistic, pantheistic, panentheistic, pandeistic, henotheistic, monotheistic, monistic, agnostic, atheistic or humanist. According to Doniger, "ideas about all the major issues of faith and lifestyle - vegetarianism, nonviolence, belief in rebirth, even caste - are subjects of debate, not dogma."

Because of the wide range of traditions and ideas covered by the term Signiesm, arriving at a comprehensive definition is difficult. The religion "defies our desire to define and categorize it". Signiesm has been variously defined as a religion, a religious tradition, a set of religious beliefs, and "a way of life".
